Subject: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - EICHENBAUM WITHDRAWS FROM CONGRESSIONAL RACE

The following is a statement taken today from front runner, Vance Patterson, running for the Congressional seat in the 11th District of North Carolina. Please have this run in your paper as press release as soon as possible. Thanks you so very much and we look forward to continuing to work with you.

Upon receiving confirmation that Dr. Dan Eichenbaum has withdrawn from the race for the Congressional seat in the 11th District of North Carolina, fellow front runner, Vance Patterson issued a statement today. "Dr. Dan was a very strong candidate in this campaign and it is unfortunate that he will not remain in this race. Dr. Dan and I share fundamental values on many issues and I respect his platform. He is a supporter of the TEA Party movement and is a strong supporter of Term Limits. While we began campaigning last July, the race for the 11th Congressional seat is just getting started. I will continue to work hard for Western North Carolinians to create jobs, roll back NAFTA and CAFTA, reduce the size of government and stand strong against Obamacare and Agenda 21. I am moving forward to reach Victory for the people of North Carolina."
